INEXORABLE (BOOK)

HOW TO BUILD RESILIENT LIVES, WORKS, AND WEALTH IN THE 21ST CENTURY

- We live in an era marked by technological disruption, economic uncertainty, and accelerated structural change. In this context, the true challenge is no longer simply achieving success, but building lives, works, and wealth capable of resisting and thriving amid complexity.
- This book proposes a clear framework for organizing three fundamental dimensions of human life:
- Being → Doing → Having
- Or expressed differently:
- Person → Works (company, career, vocation) → Wealth
- It is built upon four strategic forces that are redefining leadership and resilience today:
 - Adaptive Intelligence to navigate complexity
 - Agentic AI as a strategic amplifier of human thinking
 - High Performance inspired by the discipline of professional sport
 - Openness to a higher order as a source of purpose and direction
- The result is a practical architecture for building antifragile lives, meaningful works, and resilient wealth in the 21st century.

HÁGASE TU VOLUNTAD

FAITH, VOCATION, AND CATHOLIC LEADERSHIP IN THE MODERN WORLD

- In a culture that has separated faith from everyday life, many leaders, entrepreneurs, and professionals face a profound question:

How can one fully live the faith without abandoning the real responsibilities of the world?

- Hágase Tu Voluntad (Thy Will Be Done) is a podcast that explores how to integrate the Catholic worldview with the realities of modern life.
- It examines three fundamental dimensions of human life from a Christian perspective of vocation, mission, and stewardship:
 - Individual
 - Works (career, leadership, company)
 - Wealth

- Its purpose is to show how faith can illuminate:
 - interior life
 - leadership
 - work
 - the use of money
 - cultural responsibility
- Because in the end, every Christian life can be summarized in one prayer:
- Lord, not my will, but Yours be done.
